GEO. W. STONE, Auditor.

Andover, N. H., Mar. 2, 1891.

Report of School Board.

During the past year our schools have been in session about twenty-five weeks. This is as long as the schools in the back districts can keep advantageously ; for, in those districts, not only are the roads practically impassable during the greater part of the winter, but the school houses are entirely unfit for occupancy in the severely cold weather. In the village, however, winter schools are entirely practicable.

We were enabled to retain the services of most of last year's teachers. At the Centre, in the spring term, the labor of the teacher was much lightened by an arrangement made with the Principal of Proctor Academy and parents of most of the larger pupils. By this arrangement, those more advanced pupils attended school at the Academy, the parents paying half of the tuition and the district the remaining half.

The Board desires to call the attention of teachers to the incompleteness of the registers, particularly in those columns giving the yearly summaries and other statistical information. This incompleteness not only greatly increases the work of the Board in making its annual report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, but actually diminishes the accuracy and value of that report. Upon the teachers, we must, in great part, depend for our school statistics, and it is, therefore, of great importance that the register should be accurately and completely filled out. A young teacher may well be pardoned, if she finds the official register a complex puzzle ; but our experienced teachers have no such excuse. On the contrary, we are inclined to think that the carelessness which many of them exhibit in the matter, is due to the very natural feeling that the requirement of a complete register is an unnecessary piece of red tape. Did they realize its importance to those who have the supervision of the public schools of the entire state, we feel sure that the number of perfect registers would be greatly increased.

As for school houses, some of them still lack comfortable seats, and an adequate supply of blackboards and other apparatus, while very few of them have any map and chart at all. The school houses at West Andover, Back Road, the Plains, the Centre and Cilleyville, have been painted the past year. A few others will undoubtedly be painted this spring.

The first year's trial of the Free Text Book Act has been as satisfactory as we had a right to expect. It has added greatly to the cost of maintaining the schools, and also to the labors of the School Board. Yet, owing to the defects of human nature, it has resulted in procuring for the pupils more and better school supplies than they had previously enjoyed. An almost entirely new set of books has been adopted, giving the pupils the advantage of works completely up to date and by competent authors. The following are the works as now adopted :—Lippincott's New Series of Readers, Lippincott's Popular Speller, Greenleaf's New Inductive Series of Arithmetics, Greenleaf's New Elementary Algebra, Bert's Primer of Scientific Knowledge, Bert's First Steps in Scientific Knowledge, Cutter's Intermediate Anatomy, Physiology, Physiology and Hygiene, Eggleston's First Book in American History, Eggleston's History of the United States for the Use of Schools, Harper's Copy Books, Harper's Geographies, Lee & Shepard's text Book Record, Worcester's New Academic Dictionary, Southworth & Goddard's Elements of Grammar.

The dictionary named above is a new and valuable book. One or two of our schools are provided with large dictionaries.

but most of our pupils enjoyed the regular use of a dictionary for the first time, last year. The new grammar and histories also deserve special mention. Much progress has been made in carrying out the requirements of the law for the instruction of pupils as to the effects of alcohol upon the human system. Besides the regular classes in physiology and hygiene, general lessons in temperance have been given to entire schools. Most of the new books prove highly satisfactory, except the geographies, which have been but imperfectly revised, and are, consequently, decidedly behind the times.

The usual statistical table accompanies this report. The Treasurer's report, which follows, shows the condition of the treasury and the receipts and expenses of the school year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
